DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group II, Claims 8-14, 22-28, 33-36, and 42-46 in the reply filed on 19 July 2006 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 1-7, 15-21, 29-32, and 37-41 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 19 July 2006.
3. Further examination has revealed that the elected Group II, Claims 8-14, 22-28, 33-36, and 42-46, has claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Species A: the method wherein the a portion of the heat transfer gas that does not leak between the support arrangement(s) and the supported wafer(s) into the treatment chamber is controllably released in response to a measured backside pressure to maintain said backside pressure at a selected value. (ex. Specification, Paragraphs 24-25 and 81-82)

Species B: the method wherein all of the portion of the heat transfer gas that does not leak between the support arrangement(s) and the supported wafer(s) into the treatment chamber is introduced directly to the treatment chamber, in a way which approximates all of the heat transfer gas leaking between the support arrangement(s) and the wafer(s), so as to provide an approximately fixed dilution of the heat transfer gas proximate to the front sides of the wafer(s), irrespective of a particular leak rate that is associated with each of the supported wafer(s). (ex. Specification, Paragraphs 26-27 and 85)

4. The species are independent or distinct because in the method of Species A, the second portion of the heat transfer gas is controllably released to maintain the wafer backside pressure at a selected value, while in the method of Species B, all of the second portion of the heat transfer gas is released into the treatment chamber to provide an approximately fixed dilution of the heat transfer gas proximate to the front sides of the wafer(s).

5. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are fully generic.

6. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

7. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 1763

8. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

9. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

10. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103 (a) of the other invention.

11. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
